

ICAR-IVRI, Mukteswar Campus Celebrated “International Women’s Day” on 8th March, 2020

9th March 2020, Mukteswar: ICAR-Indian Veterinary Research Institute, Mukteswar campus celebrated “International Women’s Day” on 08.03.2020. The theme for the current year is "I am Generation Equality: Realizing Women's Rights". A total of 20 women of the campus including students, teachers and housewives participated in the programme. Dr. Putan Singh, Station-in-Charge; Dr. Ramakrishnan, Head, Virology Division ; Dr. C Jana, Senior Scientist, ICAR-DFMD and Ms. Mamta Parihar, Teacher, Children Corner, Mukteswar were present during the programme. Chief Guest of the programme, Ms. Mamta Parihar emphasized on importance of education for rural women in India. Various lectures on women health, education, safety, security and equality were deliberated by post graduate students of the campus. Station-in-Charge Dr. Putan Singh highlighted the theme of current year and congratulates all women present in the function of International Women’s Day. Dr. Ramakrishnan has explained the current scenario of women in veterinary education system. Dr. C. Jana, Senior Scientist, ICAR-DFMD briefed about the role of women in development of our society in India. A short quiz competition was also conducted for women participants by Dr. Madhusoodan A.P., Scientist of TAH Division. The programme was coordinated by Dr. Amol Gurav, I/C Extension Education Section, and Dr. Chayna Mahapatra, PhD Scholar. A vote of thanks was given by Dr. Smriti Chand, M.V.Sc scholar.

Lightening of Lamp during Inauguration of Programme

A Group Photograph of Participants during International Women's Day-2020 Celebration at Mukteswar Campus