

Skill Development Programme on “Cell Culture and Virus Handling Techniques”

(12 to 21 February, 2019)

A ten days Skill Development Programme (12-21 February, 2019) on “Cell Culture and Virus Handling Techniques” was organized by Agri-buisness Incubation Project, and Biological Products Division in association with Biological Standardization Division. The programme was inaugurated at , ICAR-IVRI, Izatnagar with the objectives of skill development for Research scholars, Research officers and Scientists in the field of Cell Culture and Virus handling Techniques. In this programme a total 16 participants from various organizations like Banaras Hindu University (BHU), Varanashi; National Institute of High Security Animal Disease (NIHSAD), Bhopal; National Institute of Animal Health (NIAH), Baghpat; Veterinary University, Tirupati; Kerala Institute of Animal Health and Veterinary Biologicals (IAH&VB); Central military Veterinary Laboratory (CMVL), Meerut; participated.

This skill development programme will cover various aspect of Cell Culture and Virus handling techniques, including establishment of Cell Culture Laboratory, Biosafety aspect, Good laboratory Practices from highly experienced scientists and faculty of IVRI..

Dr R.P. Singh, Head Division of Biological Products and PI-Agri-Buisness Incubation (ABI) Centre, welcomed the participants and Invited members and gave an overview of the Programme and briefed about the ABI activities.

Dr B.P.Mishra, JD(R),ICAR-IVRI said that cell culture is an art and gave a brief about other skill development programmes of IVRI.

Dr R. K. Singh, Director & Vice Chancellor of ICAR-IVRI presided the inauguration function. During the presidential remarks Dr Singh expressed that the skills acquired through such programmes will enhance the efficiency and employability of researchers and research scholars.

Dr Bina Mishra, Principal Scientist and Nodal officer gave formal vote of thanks to all the participants and the Invited members. The programme was well attended by Dr R.K. Joshi, Dr A.K.Tiwari, Dr K.K.Rajak, Dr C.L Patel, Dr P Das, Dr. Mayank Rawat, Dr Puneet Kumar, Dr Salauddin Qurrashi, , Dr S.K.Singh, others and Team ABI.

