

Indian Veterinary Research Institute Regional campus, Bengaluru, Karnataka

Celebration of International Women's Day 2025 at IVRI Bengaluru Campus

The ICAR – Indian Veterinary Research Institute, Regional Campus in Hebbal, Bengaluru, organized International Women's Day 2025 on the theme "Accelerate Action" on March 21, 2025. A workshop titled 'Self-Empowerment and Wellbeing of Women' was held for scientists, staff, students, and research scholars. Dr. Pallab Choudhuri, Joint Director of ICAR – IVRI Bengaluru, addressed all the participants and commended the significant contributions of women to science, society, and the nation as a whole. Dr. Dechamma H. J., Principal Scientist, emphasized the significance of Women's Day. Various lectures and interactive sessions took place during the workshop. Experts delivered the lectures, including Dr. Jayashree from the Department of AGB at Veterinary College, Bengaluru, who spoke on "Self-empowerment in the workplace," Chithra H A, who discussed "Why women's health is important," and Dr. Prathima Khandelwal, who addressed "Emotional intelligence for harmony and wellness." Games and activities were organized for all attendees. The participants expressed their satisfaction with the workshop, noting that the lectures would be beneficial for their everyday life applications. The program concluded with a vote of thanks from Dr. Priyanka.

